Many analysts suggest that, due to poor economic conditions, now may be the best time to invest in gold in our lifetime and that gold prices may spike up over the next year or two similar to how they spiked up 800% during the late 1970's. Gold coin expert Michael Stabach says, "We encourage everyone to prepare for higher inflation which we expect will lead to significantly higher gold prices over the next year or two. Right now is similar to 'the calm before the storm' so to speak and the smart investors are preparing for the economic 'storm' on the horizon. People should not underestimate the severity of the current economic and geopolitical problems that exist not only here at home, but throughout the world. Here at home we hear about economic recovery however the facts indicate that not to be true. You can't have recovery simultaneous to rising unemployment, foreclosures, and inflation. Don't forget that all of our government's incessant spending habits are driving the value of US Dollar down, which is affecting our ability to continue to borrow money in the form of our monthly bond auctions. Also, keep in mind that right now one in ten Americans are living off food stamps; more than ever before since the inception of the food stamp program."

Michael Stabach's company, National Discount Coins, is located in Weston, FL and is available to assist with any gold coin purchase or liquidation for investment portfolios or gold coin IRAs.
